Reducing Barriers to New gTLD Creation in Developing Regions

http://brussels38.icann.org/node/12503

Wednesday, 23 June 2010 – 14:00 – 15:30

[2010-06-23 14::12:09] Karla_Valente: We will start soon.

[2010-06-23 14::16:25] Jim_Fleming: This has to be the most divisive collection of Online.Participation Tools ever assembled

[2010-06-23 14::17:50] Danny_Younger: Director Toure, I am aware of a registry operator that handles a limited amount of registrations, that doesn't charge any fee for registrations, and that uses no registrar services. Their organization's contract is up for rebid next year, and we all know that the prospect of competition often inspires new innovative solutions. If this registry operator, the IANA, can provide such registry services for IGOs by way of .int, is there an

[2010-06-23 14::17:52] Jim_Fleming: The state-of-the-art Online Participation tools allow one to "almost be there" almost hologram-level participation

[2010-06-23 14::19:35] Karla_Valente: Jim, thank you for your comments on remote participation. Is you comment about IANA for the panel?

[2010-06-23 14::20:00] Karla_Valente: Danny: is your comment for the panel?

[2010-06-23 14::20:22] Jim_Fleming: KV: Quite Frankly - I don't what "Panel" that would be there are 27 Avatars here

[2010-06-23 14::20:46] Jim_Fleming: KV: Quite Frankly - I don't know what "Panel" that would be there are 29 Avatars here

[2010-06-23 14::21:05] Danny_Younger: Hi Karla. Yes, my question is for the panel and/or director Toure upon his arrival

[2010-06-23 14::21:38] Karla_Valente: Danny, thank you. I will pass this on to the speakers when the Q&A starts.

[2010-06-23 14::22:28] Jim_Fleming: Are the "speakers" blogged or Twittered in this chat ?

[2010-06-23 14::22:54] Karla_Valente: Avri is opening the session. The speakers/panelists are not on camera now

[2010-06-23 14::23:15] Jim_Fleming: Don't see an

[2010-06-23 14::24:14] Karla_Valente: Hi all: Here are the names of the speakers for this session:http://brussels38.icann.org/node/12503

[2010-06-23 14::24:59] Jim_Fleming: Who is "brussels38" ? and "node" ?

[2010-06-23 14::25:40] Karla_Valente: Jim: this is a live feed from the ICANN Meeting in Brussels. This session is at the conference room live

[2010-06-23 14::26:20] Jim_Fleming: This has to be the most divisive collection of Online.Participation Tools ever assembled

[2010-06-23 14::26:30] Karla_Valente: Jim: you can see a video depending on how you connected.

[2010-06-23 14::26:53] Jim_Fleming: unless blind

[2010-06-23 14::27:19] Karla_Valente: we offer many connection options

[2010-06-23 14::28:13] Jim_Fleming: KV just my 2 cents - Sometimes many can be less when it comes to communication

[2010-06-23 14::29:13] Jim_Fleming: Online Participation should be HoloDek-Like StarTrek beam me up Scotty

[2010-06-23 14::30:41] Jim_Fleming: It would appear that the Face-2-Face MeatSpace meetings favor those that like to travel and socialize

[2010-06-23 14::31:57] Karla_Valente: Jim: ICANN is working hard to ensure remote participants are heard and have the opportunity to contribute as much as the people that are at the meetings.

[2010-06-23 14::32:48] Jim_Fleming: KV: I hear you but there are 68,558 participants on http://IMVU.com as we speak and 30 here

[2010-06-23 14::34:22] Rafik: guys, please feel free to share your ideas how to assist applicants from developing countries

[2010-06-23 14::34:30] Karla_Valente: Jim: I understand your point. We have today a better system we had a year ago and I see things getting better all the time. I hope we get to the point where there are thousands of people around the world following on ICANN developments!

[2010-06-23 14::34:53] Jim_Fleming: KV: Be careful what you wish for

[2010-06-23 14::35:04] John_McCormac_HosterStats: QUESTION Will these new gTLDs in developing regions be competing with the local ccTLDs and would they end up being a .com replacement for those markets?

[2010-06-23 14::35:05] Karla_Valente: ;-)

[2010-06-23 14::35:36] Karla_Valente: ALL: This is the working group team 1 speaking.

[2010-06-23 14::35:48] Jim_Fleming: KV: Just my 2 cents, the New.DNS will render most of this moot

[2010-06-23 14::36:58] Rafik: @John_McCormac_HosterStats not necessary we can expect that such gTLD is fro communities for example

[2010-06-23 14::37:28] Jim_Fleming: DNSMASQ has nearly 100% marketshare in consumer CPE and it appears very few there understand that

[2010-06-23 14::38:42] John_McCormac_HosterStats: @Rafik It could work but there is a .com replacement effect that I've seen with .eu and new EU states replacing .com as the default non-ccTLD domain choice with .eu (a very good example of community interest)

[2010-06-23 14::39:33] John_McCormac_HosterStats: @Rafik Also .cat seems to be a good model for these new gTLDs (Linguistic/community type TLD)

[2010-06-23 14::40:31] Jim_Fleming: .CAT failed in the Market Trials and is being Re-Launched - It will likely be a Trending TLD in the New.DNS with the move to 4096 slots

[2010-06-23 14::41:31] John_McCormac_HosterStats: @Jim_Fleming Failure is relative in TLD terms.

[2010-06-23 14::41:52] Karla_Valente: Danny: the last sentence of your question is incomplete. Could you please resend it to me?

[2010-06-23 14::42:26] Danny_Younger: Hi Karla: f this registry operator, the IANA, can provide such registry services for IGOs by way of .int, is there any particular reason why it couldn't be cajoled into providing equivalent registry services for NGOs in the developing world, perhaps a similar .NGO TLD?

[2010-06-23 14::43:08] Karla_Valente: Got it!

[2010-06-23 14::43:34] Jim_Fleming: http://blog.icann.org/2010/05/podcast-cops-and-registrants-seek-to-amend-the-raa/#comments

[2010-06-23 14::44:08] Karla_Valente: who should get the support and what kind of support

[2010-06-23 14::44:09] Jim_Fleming: http://www.icann.org/en/comments-mail/icann-current/msg00342.html

[2010-06-23 14::45:06] Jim_Fleming: .CAT was near the bottom in 1999 - 201 DREAMS 201 AGENT 200 MOTORS 200 CAT 199 SERV 199 HILL 199 FIRST

[2010-06-23 14::48:14] Karla_Valente: what do you think about this proposal?

[2010-06-23 14::48:26] Jorge: what kind of support are we talking about ?

[2010-06-23 14::48:36] Jim_Fleming: KV: what proposal ?

[2010-06-23 14::48:44] Jorge: is the doc/presentation available online ?

[2010-06-23 14::49:22] Karla_Valente: teh proposal to offer support for the groups a, b and c outlined on the slide

[2010-06-23 14::49:33] Jim_Fleming: what slide?

[2010-06-23 14::49:35] Rafik: @jorge it is talking about the possible applicants who may be eligible for the assistance

[2010-06-23 14::49:38] John_McCormac_HosterStats: In some respects it is fragmenting the net but there is some merit in the proposals.

[2010-06-23 14::50:15] Karla_Valente: the presentation is available on this site:http://brussels38.icann.org/node/12503

 [2010-06-23 14::50:53] Jorge: @rafik for gtld applications ?

[2010-06-23 14::51:05] Jim_Fleming: http://brussels38.icann.org/meetings/brussels2010/presentation-reducing-barriers-new-gtld-23jun10-en.pdf

[2010-06-23 14::51:25] Jorge: Thanks Karla & Jim

[2010-06-23 14::51:49] Rafik: @jorge yes

[2010-06-23 14::53:03] Jim_Fleming: KV: The "New" Internet (and New.DNS) works better with URLs to the docs because it reads the doc and virus checks it before it gets near the consumer's SCUBA gear

[2010-06-23 14::53:32] Karla_Valente: Jm: good point

[2010-06-23 14::55:14] Mary_W: Just to be clear (missed the first part of this session) - the basis/assumption is that support is only for community-based TLD apps (i.e. not a standard TLD app, per DAGv4)?

[2010-06-23 14::56:21] Karla_Valente: Mary_W. I will convey your question to the panel. My understanding is that this applies to all and it is still being disucssed by the WG

[2010-06-23 14::57:32] Jorge: I believe it applies to any gTLD

[2010-06-23 14::57:35] elaine: karla, to mary's question, the support is not lmited to community basis only

[2010-06-23 14::57:46] Jim_Fleming: Comment Slide 3 - "Single Fee Structure" - There is no "Fee" in the New.DNS

[2010-06-23 14::58:01] Karla_Valente: tahts what I thought. Thank you Jorge and Elaine

[2010-06-23 14::58:39] elaine: "a. At least in the initial/pilot phase, target support to ethnic and linguistic communities (e.g. the Hausa community, Quechua speakers, Tamil speakers). These potential applicants have the benefits of being relatively well defined as groups, and pass the test of being generally non- controversial. Such communities already have a history of recognition at ICANN and facilitating community on the web is one of ICANNs core values. "

[2010-06-23 14::59:06] Mary_W: Thx, Karla & Elaine - my question was based on the previous slide from Team 2 (1st round only for ethnic & linguisitc "communities", then try to define what kind of "community" NGOs etc. are.

[2010-06-23 14::59:30] Jim_Fleming: Comment Slide 4 - "Operate a TLD" ? the New.DNS is fully automated un-touched by humans

[2010-06-23 14::59:42] Jorge: you are talking about kind of a poor puntCAT situation ?

[2010-06-23 15::00:04] elaine: --but not limited to ethnic and linguistic, only that we could all agree they would be most likely to fit the critera

[2010-06-23 15::00:57] SeanPowell: infrastructures are never untouched

[2010-06-23 15::01:43] Jim_Fleming: General Comment on Slides - Not sure what ICANN is "Selling" to "Applicants"

 [2010-06-23 15::01:43] elaine: you can read the snapshot of our work here, and please submit comments : http://www.icann.org/en/topics/new-gtlds/jas-wg-snapshot-16jun10-en.pdf

[2010-06-23 15::02:12] Jorge: thanks elaine

[2010-06-23 15::03:29] Mary_W: Well, to the extent that the 1st round recs are more likely to (and more clearly be) candidates for community-based apps, I wondered if the JAS considered the requirements & dispute resolution sections of DAG v4 as within its mandate (e.g. fair/attainable by likely candidates)?

[2010-06-23 15::03:36] John_McCormac_HosterStats: @Jorge I think Jim was referring to some keyword survey of .com domains in 1999?

[2010-06-23 15::04:12] Jorge: Jim is like the noise of a bad tuned radio station

[2010-06-23 15::04:21] Jim_Fleming: Trending TLDs are based on .COM Registrations

[2010-06-23 15::04:25] elaine: correct Mary, the ppt slide was incorrect in its summary. We are not limiiting consideration to those that could meet the community requirements

[2010-06-23 15::05:18] Mary_W: thx for clarifying, Elaine!

[2010-06-23 15::05:21] Jim_Fleming: Looks like ICANN still has thugs - Good luck to everyone - C Ya

[2010-06-23 15::09:23] Karla_Valente: Katim from ICANN's board of directors is speaking

[2010-06-23 15::10:36] Mary_W: Good to have Adobe Connect & Karla to ask our questions (it's more comfortable sitting down than queuing at the mike :)

[2010-06-23 15::11:48] Karla_Valente: Mary: I have 2 questions from you taht will be asked soon.

[2010-06-23 15::12:30] Karla_Valente: Mary: what do you mean by first time "recs"?

[2010-06-23 15::13:59] Mary_W: oh, recommendations (or proposals, I guess)

[2010-06-23 15::14:20] ¬ª Monica_S_Trenas_Granados joined the chat room.

[2010-06-23 15::14:33] Karla_Valente: @Mary: Ah.... thank you!

[2010-06-23 15::14:38] Mary_W: Karla, I think Elaine is answering my 1st question now ...?

[2010-06-23 15::15:03] Karla_Valente: she was actually answering a question from teh floor.

[2010-06-23 15::16:22] Mary_W: thank you!

[2010-06-23 15::16:32] Karla_Valente: the question from teh floor was on IDNs, but similar to yours

[2010-06-23 15::16:49] Karla_Valente: Mary: they are now addressing your 2nd question

[2010-06-23 15::16:59] Mary_W: yup :)

[2010-06-23 15::17:22] Karla_Valente: ALL: any more questions, comments, suggestions?
 [2010-06-23 15::18:11] Jorge: be aware two or three words in Cordoba represent a "Speech" :-)

[2010-06-23 15::18:24] John_McCormac_HosterStats: QUESTION: Will local ccTLD impact be part of the evaluation process for community/linguistic gTLD proposals?

[2010-06-23 15::19:25] Karla_Valente: got your question, John!

[2010-06-23 15::19:32] John_McCormac_HosterStats: thanks Karla

[2010-06-23 15::20:10] Karla_Valente: John: did you mean "impact"?

[2010-06-23 15::20:49] John_McCormac_HosterStats: yes - basically the commercial impact of a community/language gTLD on the local ccTLD where most of that community/language group is based

[2010-06-23 15::21:41] Karla_Valente: John: makes sense. thanks

[2010-06-23 15::22:56] Nnenna: Funding is as important as technical training

[2010-06-23 15::26:10] John_McCormac_HosterStats: thanks

[2010-06-23 15::26:49] Karla_Valente: you are welcome

[2010-06-23 15::32:10] Erick_Iriarte_2: question.. how you define linguistic?, based in a region or in a language dispersion?, example el quechua in Equator, Bolivia and Peru have difference, but even inside Peru too

[2010-06-23 15::33:36] Erick_Iriarte_2: another question.. how is defined ethnic? in theory at this moment everybody is half-blood :) so'... if the definition is legal or territorial, example the peruvian aymaras are different than bolivian aymaras, and politically could be complicated mixed both groups.. so give to only want is politically incorrect.

[2010-06-23 15::34:24] John_McCormac_HosterStats: Tower of Babel V2.0? :)

[2010-06-23 15::37:00] Karla_Valente: Erik: we are running out of time and need to leave the room soon for the IDN session. I will try to ask yoru questions, but if it is not possible to answer it now, I will send to the group

[2010-06-23 15::37:09] Erick_Iriarte_2: thanks

[2010-06-23 15::38:10] Karla_Valente: Thank you.

[2010-06-23 15::40:57] Karla_Valente: Thank you all for your participation. Next New gTLD session is Brand Management in the Age of New gTLDs. It starts at 4:00 Brussels time.

[2010-06-23 15::42:45] John_McCormac_HosterStats: the brand management presentation should be interesting. I do a domain comparison across com/net/org/biz/info/mobi/asia/tel every month. Only 28762 doms were regged across all those gTLDs
